Prevent Access to Prescription Medications

1. Keep all medications out of the reach of children.
2. Even though your children might be older, you still need to secure your medications.
3. Lock your medicine cabinet or keep all medications in a secure location.
4. Don’t tell many people about your medication types.
5. Know how much medication you have. If you suspect your medications are missing it is important to speak to your children.
6. Dispose of unused or outdated medications promptly and safely, as outlined above.

Be aware that prescription drug abuse can be the gateway to using illegal drugs like heroin.

If you think your teen is using drugs, don’t wait to do something about it. Visit the Substance Abuse & Mental Health Services Administration at www.findtreatment.samhsa.gov for a list of treatment centers in your area or call 899-662-HELP (4375).
